

Government

Applus is a partner with government agencies across the U.S. and around the world. Applus has consistently met stringent state procurement and contract requirements for more than a decade. We understand the complexities of regulatory compliance such as the federal reporting requirements of the Clean Air Act. Applus supports compliance reporting requirements with robust data management and reporting functionalities that are integrated seamlessly into our comprehensive solutions. Equally important, Applus understands the need to deliver cost-effective solutions that minimize government spending while maximizing productivity. Our success is evidenced by the number and duration of government contracts awarded—and re-awarded—to Applus.
